Dying to meet you is a story about an old man ,who is currently writing a book and just bought a house. Ms.Anita sale is the real state woman who sold the house to Ignatius (the main character). Ms.Anita sale warned him the the house had problems, Mr.Ignatius still moved on with the rent. When Ignatius received the house he thought it would be a quite place to complete his next book. When Mr.Ignatius sign the contract to rent the house he did not read well, so the consequence of that was he had to take care of a child a cat and a ghost this child speaks on about. The child (Seymour) and Ignatius did not have a friendly relationship, but at least they sent letters to each other about rules. The child and his ghost friend (Olive) try to scare him off and drop a chandelier on Ignatius, friendly right? Ignatius comes back in casts and is limping in sadness. The Olive apologizes and invites him to diner. Ignatius comments what a great joke to Seymour because Ignatius thought that he was making someone talk at the diner table, but it was actually the ghost. The Olive started to write letters about her reading his diary and his ex-wife used to nickname him Iggy. I don't really know who asked but they had a "date" at the grave yard. They got to know one another and they decided to make the book together. The Olive was an intelligent woman who died and was a record breaker for the most rejected books. Ignatius was a hoard for the book, he had an article in the news paper about an interview. The ghost felt disrespected for not having any credit, Iggy try to speak to her but Olive regret making this book with him. Olive disappeared for a while Ignatius was desperate. Seymour and Iggy had diner together and created a relationship. Seymour wrote to Olive that Iggy let the cat sit on a chair and they had funny moments and p.s. he misses you desperately. Olive came back, well she was always there looking over his shoulder watching him eagerly try to accomplish a page of his book. Seymour finally made enough to buy the house with the help of Ignatius. Olive started saying that she was gonna leave because she finally published a book with Ignatius, but Iggy and Seymour convinced her to stay with them an have there happy definition of there own family.
