

Sarah's Stone

by Cassidy V.

Chapter 1

Hi my name is Sarah and I'm ten. I Live on Main Street. I have two parents named Louise and John. I know it's a little creepy I'm telling you where I live and everything but hey you're just going to have to stick with me. But to be my friend you're going to have to know one thing about me and that is that I am "not" normal. I know it might seem I'm normal but I'm not. Just the thought of "me" being normal makes my stomach turn. For the last time I am "not" normal.

Chapter 2

Jennifer

I'm Sarah's best best best best friend, forever! So we call each other BBB BFFs even though she's a v..... oh! I almost forgot she didn't tell you that yet. My name is Jennifer or Jennie for short. Sarah, Alyson (which you'll learn who that is later on) and I all ride the subway together. Sarah's ten, I'm nine and Alyson's nine and a half, so we're all close to the same age and all in the same grade.

Chapter 3

Alyson

I'm Alyson. I don't know how much you know about Sarah already but to tell you the truth she still gives me the creeps and we've been friends since kindergarten! Sarah gets "all" the attention. Did you just think she was just an innocent girl who had no friends? Probably. She doesn't talk about me much. She doesn't know how lucky she is to be her with all the right clothes, shoes, and jewelry. Meanwhile I'm wearing quite baggy pants, Mismatch socks, shoes with holes in them and horrible orange curly hair. I wouldn't be surprised if someone mistook me as a boy

Chapter 4

Sarah

Today's Saturday. I woke up and took a deep breath of the yummy smell of waffles. I followed my nose downstairs to some gooey waffles. As I was reaching for the waffles our house phone rang. Who is it now! As soon as I lifted up the phone the guy had already started talking.

Hi, Sarah.

How did he know my name?

Just do.

You just read my mind I said.

Yeah you can do it to.

I can?

Don't play dumb with me Sarah! I know I'm not the only vampire in the world.

Don't yell at me! I yelled back.

"Ok". I was just wondering if we could capture "The" Stone and you and I could rule the world!

You say that like it's no biggie. Of course I wouldn't do such a thing!

I hung up. But I knew he would get it anyway so I grabbed a few waffles, syrup and a sleeping bag. Then I wrote a note that said I was at Alyson's. After that, I got a map that was in my neckless (that every vampire has) that led to the stone. Finally, I set of on my journey.

Chapter 5

Jennifer

I heard that you've learned about Sarah. I hope that you still like her. But if you don't than you now know why she doesn't tell anyone except of her BBB BFFs. I like Sarah even though she's unusual. Unusual doesn't have to mean you're weird. Sometimes unusual just means people don't skip their eyes over you.

Chapter 6

Sarah

I walked and walked until I reached the woods of Sarar. From there I walked till it seemed as if there was a white blanket stretched across the pink horizon. Then I got out my sleeping bag and ate a cold waffle with syrup on it. Finally I tightly wrapped myself in my sleeping bag until I drifted off into deep sleep.

Chapter 7

Alyson

Wake up sweetie mum called. Don't wanna I said. It's soccer! She said hopefully. Still doesn't convince me, I said sleepily. I don't care if it convinces you or not, she said flatly. Err, I groaned and got up. As I did so I noticed that there was something on my bed. It was a note saying,

Dear Bestie,

Act like I'm spending the night. Just do it.

Sincerely Sarah,

OK. That was weird. Whatever, I've got to get ready for soccer.

Chapter 8

Sarah

I woke up to an unpleasant rattling sound. As I opened my eyes everything was blurry so I gave them a little rub and opened them again. I watched in horror as a Rattle snake hissed and rattled its rattle at me! I slowly reached for the syrup that laid beside my sleeping bag. The Rattle snake was about to strike but before it could I squirted it with some of my syrup. I grabbed my sleeping bag and waffles and ran. It seemed like forever for the woods to end but they did. I finally stopped at the tomb of Ader. I went in but "The Stone" wasn't there but that's when I heard a familiar voice from behind.

Well, well, well,

I turned to see who it was. He seemed my age. How could someone so little think of ruling Earth? I grabbed a sword that was by two rocks where "The" stone should have been. As he grabbed "The" stone, I raised my sword to slay him but then he said,

He-Honk.

What was that! I giggled.

My evil laugh.

That was horrible I said.

I bet you can't do better.

He bragged. Can too I yelled.

Oh yeah! Then prove it.

HE-HA-HA, I yelled.

But when I did so the tomb started falling. It was like slow-mow as I ran and snatched the stone and made my escape.

Now that I thought of it I never got the guy's name. Oh well. As I walked to my house I threw the stone into a snake hole and made a map to the stone, then put the map into a bottle then through the bottle into a lake.

The End
