

Alexander

Alexander had no friends. He only had the love from his mother. One day his mom found a dog and brought him home. He saw the dog and said, "can I have him?" She said "if you want him, you have to take care of him. So, he took the dog and loved him. He was happy to have a real friend. One day his dog was barking outside and he got out of bed and looked out the window. He screamed when he saw a stranger grab his dog and put him in a van. He went down stairs to wake his mom, and told her someone stole my dog! His mom sighed and said, he was your responsibility so you cannot get mad at me. Alexander started to cry and ran back to his room. The next morning Alexander thought about his dog, he really missed him and wanted him back. Alexander was determined to find his dog, so he packed up some of his belongings and snuck out of his house. He looked for the van down every street, he was almost giving up when he spotted the van in an alley. He slowly made his way to the van and opened the back doors. When he opened the doors, he could not believe his eyes. There were many dogs locked up in cages.

Alexander closed the van doors when he heard a noise coming from an abandoned house. He noticed a few men coming out of the house. While he was observing them, one of the men spotted Alexander and started to approach him. Alexander was so terrified that he turned and ran away as fast as he could. That was close he said to himself. He knew that his dog was locked up inside one of the cages. He decided to go back later that night, to rescue his dog. Alexander waited patiently for the sun to go down, he was determined to rescue his dog.

Alexander got on his bike and started to head towards the abandoned house, when he noticed the van moving. He slowly followed the van from afar. The van stopped at a boat dock. He got off his bike and slowly walked towards the dock. Alexander could hear someone mumbling but only could make out the words, "guard dogs. He heard something behind him, he quickly turned when he saw a little girl standing behind him. Alexander was so scared and asked the little girl, what she was doing there? She replied, I am trying to get my dog back. He told her to stay with him while he observed the van. The men were loading the cages onto the boat one by one. Alexander and the girl, slowly snuck onto the boat and hid under a table. A few minutes later they felt the boat start to move, they did not know what to do. They stayed hidden under the table and fell asleep. When they woke up it was morning. There was no noise and the boat had stopped. Alexander told the little girl to stay put while he looked around. When he got out from the under the table, he noticed the men sleeping. He ran towards the table and told the little girl to get out. They both got off the boat and ran towards a police officer that was in a parking lot. Alexander and the little girl explained to the officer what had happened. The officer got out of his car and went towards the boat. He found the men, the dogs, and a stash of money. The officer arrested all the men. Alexander and the little girl were reunited with their dogs.
