

Inseparable Sisters Sofia E.

Once there was this girl named Amanda. Her sister was separated from her when she was a little kid. This happened since her mom and aunt got in a huge fight. Her aunt took her sister away yes ago. Now years passed on and Amanda is now 9 years old, she sees her sister little by little. But all she wants is to see her sister living with her again. Every single time her sister comes she asks, "When are you coming to live with me again?" Her sister always says the same thing, "I don't know, it might not be possible." But one day, Amanda heard her mom talking on the phone with her sister. Her mom said that Amanda's sister was coming over. Amanda started jumping up and down, she ran to her room before her mom saw her. Once her sister came, Amanda ran downstairs without falling and hugged her sister. She had tears of happiness streaming down her face. Her sister brought presents for her. Amanda was so happy, she did not want this day to end! She was with her sister the whole entire time, she did not want to leave her side. They watched movies, played, and snuck up on each other. But the day came to an end, her sister had to leave. Amanda was sad but at least she got to see her sister. Her sister said she will come more often. Amanda was so happy to hear that news. But Amanda and her sister will still see each other, that is the most important thing. They will still love each other until the end, they will stay sisters forever until the end. That is the story of the inseparable sisters.
