

James P.

Black Spider

“Welcome to my new invention. The Charge.”

I'm in the lab listening to my Professor John. The professor went on, “Now all I have to do is pull the lever and PRESTO!” ZAP!!! The machine buzzed when it turned on. It was nothing like I had ever seen, but just then I heard a boom! At first, I thought it was the machine. But, it was not. It was coming from outside. “I better go check it out,” I said. I went to my homeroom, grabbed my backpack, and ran into the boy's bathroom to get changed into my spider costume. I jumped out of the window and headed toward the city on foot, but before I got there I saw a large scaly green beast. It had wings the size of an airplane, eyes as dark as million midnights with red purple, and teeth as sharp as a knife, and horns as pointy as million bird beaks. “It was Green Goblin,” I said.

As I looked past the beast I saw building and cars on fire. “I think Green Goblin must have attacked the city before I got here,” I thought to myself. “Can I defeat Green Goblin all alone?” I thought to myself again. I stepped up to the beast. “You killed my grandma so I will kill you,” I said. Just then I felt a feeling I had not felt in a long time.

I jumped up on a building just in time before I got hit by the beast. Thwamp! I shot my webs ROAR Green Goblin screamed as loud as a million megaphones and breathed fire at me. I jumped and swung on my webs and kicked the beast in the eye. ROAR yelled the beast. “I think I made him angry,” I said. The beast picked me up and threw me into a car. CRASH! I busted through the window and punched through the passenger's side window. When I ran on the other side, he was gone. “I wonder where the beast could have gone?" I thought to myself. I looked all around but I still didn't see the beast, so I swung away on my webs. I didn't get far before I got hit by a big, cold, scaly hand. I flew to a skyscraper. I climbed up the wall then shot my webs at the large beast. It hit me with its tail of spikes. I jumped in pain. I was so angry I shot my webs so fast that the beast couldn't dodge them. The beast screamed like he was dead. I called the police and they took him away.

I hope we don't have to fight again for a long time, a very long time. I went back to school and sat in my chair. No one noticed that I left. Just then, I heard my professor say, "Thank you for coming to see The Charge."