

My First Day Of Kindergarten

By: Kaylee B.

“Naomi wake up!” Mom says, “It’s your first day of Kindergarten”. “Coming Mom!” I say as I wake up Emi and get dressed. I rush to the kitchen and eat my breakfast. Then I rush to the kitchen and eat my breakfast. Then brush my teeth, brush my hair, and put my shoes on. Me, Mom, and Emi jump in the car. Our school isn’t that far from our house. My school is called Rose Elementary School. Mom drops off me, and Emi at school. Emi takes me to my classroom and we go our separate ways. My teachers name is Mrs. King. I don’t see my friend Lelo [ my friend from church school ] I get a little disappointed “Okay class!” says Mrs. King. “We are going to introduce ourselves.” I don’t know what “introduce” means, but other kids start cheering so I go along with them and start to cheer, too. We get in line and in front of me is a girl named Emily. She has long, dark brown hair, and is wearing a rainbow shirt. I say my name and other kids start to say, “Like from Elana of Avalor?!” I get a little embarrassed and say, “I guess you can say that.” The guy in front of me is a boy named Tyler. He’s a couple of inches taller than me and is wearing a red shirt with pokemon on it. I sit at table 4 next to a girl named Chloe A., across from me are twins named Zoe and Chloe C. Honestly I’m just glad I’m not boy trapped. The girls didn’t talk to me at all. Chloe A. talked to the twins the whole time, and the twins didn’t talk to me at all. Even at lunch, the kids next to me would skip a chair, and so would the kids in front of me. While we were sitting on the rug where the teacher would read the kids around me would scoot away from me. When I got home I told my mom and dad all about what happened at school. [You already know what I’m going to talk about so I will leave this part out!] She told me to ask Emi about because she is really popular in middle school, and shares a lot of advice to other people that need it, and as you know I really did. I waited for her to come home so she could tell me about it. She got home at about 5:00. [ I know because we are learning it today at school ] She told me that I should act like her and I didn’t really like that idea. The next day at school I acted just like her, and once again nobody liked me. As soon as I got to my grandma’s house I asked my cousin for advice [she doesn’t have a lot of friends, but at least she has some!] She told me to just be myself and if nobody liked me then they aren’t worth me being my friend. I really liked that idea so I tried it and guess what [ I’ll give you some time to think..... It worked ] yes it really work and let this be a lesson to you if you want to make friends just think positive and be yourself, and I promise you it will work! If you don’t take my word for it, read other books and take those authors words for it!
