

The Best of Friends

By: Miranda V.

(Based on a true story)

One day there was a little girl who would beg and beg for a puppy to take care of. She loved little animals. She would dream of playing and training a puppy. Her parents just didn't want the puppy to ruin the house.

The Best Moment Ever

The little girl's name was Miranda. It was a Friday night. Her mom was at work and her dad was at home. So her dad asked if Miranda and her siblings wanted to go for a drive but they were actually going to get a puppy.

The Moment She's Been Waiting For

So while they were going to get the puppy Miranda fell asleep on the way because she thought they were going home. But when their dad stopped the car she thought they were home but she saw a see through box and something furry.

Best Surprise Ever

When Miranda got out of the car she ran to the box and she saw six tiny willers. She wanted to take them all. The thing the owner told them was that all of them were girls. That was the best part.

Taking the Puppy Home

That same night Miranda and her siblings took the puppy home. They all named her Maxie because their last dog's name was Maximouse. Miranda was too excited to go to bed so she turned on the TV and showed Maxie her favorite TV show.

The Next Day

Miranda got up and her mom didn't notice Maxie. So Miranda got off the couch and got dressed and put her shoes on so she could go outside to play fetch with Maxie. When Miranda went outside Maxie was running around the yard so Miranda could barely even see her because she was so small.

As Maxie Got Older

Maxie got older and she got more respectful as she got older but the thing Miranda had to work on with Maxie was when she gets inside she would jump on every single piece of furniture.

What Miranda had to work on with Maxie

The first thing Miranda had to work on with Maxie was to stop Maxie from jumping on all the furniture. The second thing they had to work on is when someone comes over that Maxie did not know she would jump on them and lick them. And finally the last thing and the worst thing was to stop Maxie from getting out from the gate because she acts like she has never been outside the house before.

School Time

Before Miranda went to school she would always say goodbye to Maxie first. Miranda would try to stay home with Maxie but she couldn't. When Miranda walked outside she heard Maxie. She got so sad because she was leaving her dog.

Big Problem Sad Problem

One day it was the first day of summer and Miranda noticed her mom was yelling at Miranda's brothers because the dog had ticks. They had to pull each and every one of them off but they only got a couple of them. Miranda was so sad but one day after the second week of the camp Miranda was in she was too tired to check on Maxie. Miranda's mom went to the room where Miranda was still sleeping in. She said that Maxie died in the morning. Miranda was crying for a whole week. Well that was the rest of the adventure of Miranda and Maxie.
