

By: Serina R.

Dream Girl

Once upon a time there was a girl named Tessa and she was ten years old. She always wanted to try to play sports. Every night she would dream about accomplishing her goals. She would also think about the bad part of it. When her family would try to help her she would freeze up and think what happened in her dream would happen in real life so her mom would try to help her. It didn't work. Her dad would try to help her. That didn't work either, so one day after school her seven year old sister told her to watch some sci- fi movies with her. So she said ok and after the movie her sister said how did you like it? Tessa looks at her sister and says I did not like it. It was about an alien named Lessa who would freeze up like me so her sister said sorry I thought it would help you. It's fine I'm just going to go to my room. So Tessa walked up the stairs and went to her room and looked out the window and saw people playing baseball. She stared at them for a whole wishing that was her. But then the day was turning into night so she closed the blinds and went to bed. The next morning it was Saturday and so she got up and looked on line on her computer. She saw that she got an email. So she clicked it and heard her mom call her for breakfast. Before she could even read it she went down stairs and ate. When she came back to the computer and read the email out loud. This is the sports academy we ask you to please sign up for an opportunity to win first place athlete of the century. After she read it she screamed so loud and ran down stairs to tell her parents. She asked them to help her. They said yes with excitement! They had a whole lot of sports to teach her. So much that they had to make a list.

1. Basketball
2. Baseball
3. Tennis
4. Hockey
5. Football
6. Kickball

7. Soccer
8. Frisbi

She went to the Basketball court and stooped under the basketball hoop. She felt butterflies in her stomach. So, she closed her eyes and opened them. She was telling herself I can do this, I CAN DO THIS! So she went for it. She threw the ball like she were Tim Dunkin and made it in. Her dad yelled and she makes the basket. The crowd goes wild! She jumped in her dad's arms and hugs her mom. She was so proud of herself. She wanted to play more after that moment.

Soon the competition was right around the corner and she practiced all the sports that her mom and dad wrote for her. After a few days the competition came and Tessa's family went to go watch. There were so many little kids. We were split up in groups by grade. The little's grade was kinder. The older grade was high school and I was only in the fifth grade. Once they called fifth grade names I was first to try out. I showed them what I could do and they loved it. When they showed the three winners I was one of them. I couldn't believe it. I was in first place! They announced.... And the winner is Miss Tessa Loveder. I was glad to be the Athlete of the Sentry. My mom and dad just wanted to jump out of their seats and hug me as hard as they could. Once I got to them with my award we celebrated with cake and a feast. All my family and friends were invited. In the morning I went on my computer without knowing what day it was. So I looked on my computer saw it was going to be my 11th birthday today. Then I went down stairs and nothing but sci-fi movies from last night and old pizza and cake all dried up. I watched some sci-fi movies and fell asleep again and stared dreaming about becoming a famous gymnast. I started to enjoy it then my sister woke me up from my amazing dream. I woke up and said why did you wake me up? I said I was having the best dream ever and you ruined it! Sorry, I was just wondering why did you come so early? "oh"that. um... I found out two things. One... it's my birthday. My sister said wait it's your birthday? Yah why? Because that mean's cake! Yay Yay Yay!!!, Shh!! Please be quite sorry and other reason? I'm signing up for gymnastics.

Come here quick, my mom called. When mom called dad I knew she was telling him something. So I went and was listening. Honey, the baby will be born soon so we need to set stuff up for it. As soon as I hear that I run up the stair and does that mean I won't be able to be in gymnastics? Why do you want another baby when you already have two perfect children? What? Mom started to laugh. We are not having a baby. Aunt Lee is. Not me. So, I heard wrong? Yes you heard wrong. Sorry Mom. Its fine mom! Did you hear the big news, no what is it. It Tessa's birthday and she signing up for gymnastics. You are? I am. Happy Birthday and good luck on gymnastics. Thanks mom.

The End