

Amy

Lost Without Hope

Jamey Cherebies McMiller was a little girl without FRIENDS. She was always shy. It was her first day of school. Jamey's mom took her to school with her little old car, it was red and black. Jamey got out of the car, everyone was talking about her. They would say, "Ha ha, basic blonde girl entered the school!"

Jamey didn't like it at all. Hours passed, it was the end of the day. She got inside her mom's car, "How was your day?" her mom asked.

"Good," Jamey lied. The next day her mom told her to walk to school. She thought Jamey knew the way. Jamey was lost without hope. As she was walking she saw a kid walking too. She wanted to walk with the kid but she was too shy to talk to her, but she did it for her own good.

She asked her, "Hey do you know the way to school?"

She said, "Yes, follow me," as her light brown straight hair flew in the air.

They became friends and walked everyday together. They were both different and shy, and they had a lot in common. They were both tall and nice with blue eyes. They turned out to be best friends in the 3 weeks of school.