Left Behind

Hello my name is Sarah, I am 12 years old and today I'm going on a vacation in a cruise it is going to be so much fun. I can't wait to get in the cruise.

"C'mon sweetie lets go we are almost in the cruise" says mom.

As I walk over I think that I should take a picture and send it to my friends.

"Mom can you please pass me my phone?"

"Sure." says mom.

"Oh no! I left it in the car!" says mom.

"It's okay I'll get it."

"Okay but hurry".

As I carry on walking I look at my watch "oh shoot it's almost time to get in the cruise!. I better hurry!" I thought.

So later when I got my phone it rang and my mom was calling me so I answered "hello?"

"We are boarding soon, come back now!" my mom voice said..... BEEP BEEP.

"It's taking off without me!" I sigh and walk away what am I going to do now? I'm so hungry what am I going to eat? Wait! My mom gave me my monthly allowance! I can just buy a pizza and stay at a summer camp. I guess I should start walking because I have a long way to go. Later I find a pizza place "finally!" I get in and walk over to the counter and order a medium size cheese pizza. Then I look on my phone and check for any summer camps. As a matter of fact there was none! "Excuse me Mr. but can you tell me any place where I can stay in?"

"Yes!" "I think I could I think there is one that is one block away I think and it has good quality I think!"

His voice kept stopping he was also trembling it's like he has never been asked a question before. That didn't matter though because he gave me my pizza and I stormed off. I think that more than an hour passed because it took an eternity to find that pesky hotel it was called "Sunrise Inn". I checked myself in and went for a fake identity as Melanie Kings who was 18 years old. It took away basically all the rest of my allowance because I only had one cent left of it. A day passed and I realized that there was a huge storm near the cruise and had to stop in a city near me which meant that my parents could call me. The day they came back I was waiting for six whole hours near the hotel and the place we had parked on were me and my parents met again now I am very happy to see my parents again and come back home.
