

My Vacation in Puerto Rico

By Juliannie R.

It was already the last day of class, the Christmas holidays were starting, I was very happy because I was going to spend them in Puerto Rico with my family. The holidays happened to me very fast. I spent Christmas Day and the New Year together with my whole family. We had a great time since my cousins and friends were there. However, of all my vacations there was a day that was the worst disaster that happened to me during my vacation in Puerto Rico. Everything happened one weekend when we went to Cabo Rojo, a town we like a lot because of its beautiful beaches.

My brother and I decided to get into the water because we really like the sea, but after several hours my parents told us we had to go because we had to eat and check into a hotel that had been separated.

We ate in a delicious restaurant with a beautiful view. When we finished we went in search of the hotel. As we were leaving it started to rain and it began to get dark which made it more difficult to find the hotel where we were going to stay. We spent about an hour looking for the place, until we found it for the moment.

But something went wrong. I was with my brother in the car in front of the hotel reception, which was the only entrance that the hotel has, waiting for my parents to pick up the keys to our room. At the moment I had to get out of the car to go to the bathroom, and when I go out I see my brother next to my mom. In less than twenty minutes they gave us the keys and when we walked to the car and my father was going to open the door, we realized that it was locked with the keys inside and the car was on.

My brother and I felt guilty because when we got out of the car, we closed the car without realizing it. My parents did not know what to do until my mom decided to call a locksmith. After a while the locksmith arrived and started to open the car until I managed to open it. I felt very happy and calm when they opened it because I thought it had ruined part of our vacation. Once the car opened, we went to our room to rest because the next day we had to get up early to meet my uncles and cousins to go for a walk.

It was already dawn, a beautiful sunny day. We went to breakfast and then to meet with my cousins. When we finished eating, we got in the car and went out to meet us. We went to a very nice restaurant at the top of a mountain. There we shared a good time, and after three hours we went to our last destination, a very colorful town called Aguadilla.

It was beautiful. It had many colors, everywhere. We went down through different places that it had, we took many photos since the place was very picturesque. We had a great time but at the same time I felt a bit sad because I had to say goodbye to my uncles and cousins. They had to leave for their home, and we were not going to see each other until the holidays. In conclusion, it was a very nice holiday as we saw our family and friends that we had not seen for a while. The end of our vacation had already arrived, and we had to say goodbye to everyone and then go to the airport. Until the next Puerto Rico!
