

Crystal Allen Story- Ellie's Car Adventure

Ellie is the youngest and most curious child. She asked herself, "What would it be like to drive a car?" She sees her mom and dad do it all the time, so it must be easy! All you do is push a pedal, steer with a circle thing, and pull a lever. To start the car, I guess you push random buttons until it starts. So, she went down the stairs and stood on a stepstool, then climbed onto the counter to get the keys. She was only three, so it is going to be an adventure for sure.

Her parents weren't home. It was just Ellie and the oldest thirteen-year-old named Katie. Katie was supposed to be watching Ellie, but you know thirteen-year-olds. She was watching YouTube with earphones on and her music was turned up to the highest it can go. So, Ellie goes in the garage to open the garage door. When she realized she couldn't reach the switch to open the garage door, she got a ladder and placed it under the switch. She stood on the ladder, but she kept falling down.

Finally, she was able to reach the button. She got off the ladder and unlocked the car. Next, she got in the car, but she couldn't reach the pedals, so she got out of the car and got her father's stilts. Her father used them for Halloween. Her father was a giant! Ellie opened the car door, got in the car, and put the stilts on. Now, she could definitely reach the pedals.

Her sister Katie heard a car running in the neighborhood, so she went outside and saw her mom's car crash into a tree! Katie lost her mind. She started walking to the car slowly. Katie then heard a familiar scream, it sounded like Ellie. Katie ran faster and faster, as fast as she could. She pulled Ellie straight out of the car window. She called the ambulance and a tow truck driver. Both got there in about four minutes. One towed the car and the other took Ellie to the hospital.

Ellie's parents got to the hospital and grounded Katie for life. Ellie broke her arm, but she was ok. She learned a lesson for a lifetime and swore to never drive again. But, then she turned 16 and passed the driving test and started driving legally this time, but now she knows to avoid the trees.
