

The Bloody Dream

By: Tanisha B.

Once there was a man, a man who never believed in ghosts, aliens, witches, and souls that float around and watch you. One day he was walking towards his home from his friend's house. When he raised his right hand to open the door, but it was sliced off by an invisible power! He turned around to see who it was, but no one was there. When he looked at his hand, it grew back, but it was soaked and covered with blood, but was dripping. He went to wash his hand in the sink, but the blood didn't come off, he put soap on his hand, but the blood didn't come off. He thought about going to the doctor the following day. When he was walking to the doctor's office the next day, he was about to put his left leg on the doctor's office step, but it got cut off! He fell down, and turned his head to see who's there, but no one was there, and his right hand was still bleeding. Then, his left leg grew back, and it was bleeding but didn't drip also. He saw a sign, it said "Your life will not be spared." But was he scared? No, he wasn't, so he just walked away forgetting that he had come to meet the doctor. The next day, he wore a pant to cover his non-stop bleeding left leg and he wore gloves to cover his non-stop bleeding right hand because he was going to the movie theater. He didn't want to show everybody his blood like he going out and he doesn't know about it. So, he went to the last seat in the back row where no one was sitting. While watching the movie, he realized that everything happening in the movie is what happened to him. The right hand of his and the left leg of his got cut off. That's all that happened to him and it's like someone recorded all that happened to him. Then, he woke up from his sleep realizing that his right hand and left leg were not bleeding non-stop. He also realized that whatever happened to him was a dream. After that day, he started to believe in ghosts, aliens, witches, and souls that float around and watch you. So he won't get bad dreams and scary nightmares because of them. The End.
