

Last Christmas Night

By Leah J.

It was the day before Christmas. The tree was up and sparkled like rain drops on a sunny day. No better time to be with your family than on Christmas eve. Christmas decorations were up. Christmas movies were on best day ever. Family gathered all together. We all were excited. We got to eat some of the candy canes that we hung on the tree for Christmas. We had to put more on. We all got together under the tree to open our presents. I got a pink bear, a bike, and some stickers. The thing I love the most was the family coming to visit me, my sister, and my brother for a beautiful Christmas.

I love Christmas because it's a family holiday family and friends come from all around. To see great little happy faces from their loved ones. It is a memory that can not be forgotten always remembered. That's why I love Christmas. That was the most beautiful Christmas ever I can't wait till next Christmas. Even though I can't wait till next Christmas that was the best Christmas of my whole entire life.
