

THE WORST FIRST DAY

By: JeDyn P.

YUCK! That cafeteria stinks! Hi I'm Jannet Parker. I'm 5 years old in the 1st grade and I love science. I am a girly girl especially when it comes down to jewelry, just in case you didn't know that. Now lets get down to business. I can't stand when it stinks , it just doesn't do me well. I justed walked into the building and it already stinks ,and you already know how I feel so I go in class and just suck it up. It SMELLED OLD AND NASTY LIKE FEET! I kept thinking how was I going to make it through this school year, and to be honest I really didn't think I was going to make it. So then lunch finally came and I really didn't like it. Guess what it just hit me, I forgot my lunch on the kitchen counter. I can't believe I have to eat their food or I can just get lunch and not eat it. Mom always says don't judge a book by its cover, so I chose to listen to mom . I got a tray, but something still didn't feel right about me eating their food. So I walked to my table and sat down, I felt my body shake so I hurried and took a small bite. Suprisingly..... it was good but I couldn't believe that it was that good. To be honest I really wasn't expecting what I received ,I expected old nasty food . Next thing you know its all gone and its time to go to recess. We finally got our things together and lined up to go to recess, as we walked down the hall way to go to recess I started to feel sick and nauseous to my stomach, so I raised my hand and asked the teacher can I go to the nurse .But in my head I had a feeling that something was still wrong with the food but since mom said don't judge a book by its cover I listened, so since I listened I just couldn't figure out what was wrong with their food so the teacher finally let me go. When I got to the nurses office I laid on the bed and she end up taking my temperature and I had a 102.4 fever. I kept gagging I felt the worst that I have ever felt in my entire life. So then she called my mom ,then she answered and said" Hello how are you doing? Hi Mrs.Parker how are you doing today, your daughter Jannet is in the the nurses office because she has a 102.4 fever and I was just calling to notify you, said the nurse. "Your mom is coming to pick you up honey, replied the nurse. I felt good just for a second because I knew someone cared about me. So then I saw my mom's old ragidy van. Ohhhhhh, what a day, I felt embarrassed because everybody was watching. I had vomit all over me, the nurse called my teacher to bring my stuff to me. So I got my stuff from my classmate, and went outside with my stuff and my mom helped me get in the car. When I got into the car I put my seat-belt on, and I just wanted to go to sleep, so that is exactly what I did. Honk, Honk, Honk. Honk, Honk, Honk. I jumped and screamed Ahhhhhhhhhh! Mom seriously what did you do now? As my mom was explaining, I went right back to sleep because she took the 24 million hours to explain, well at least that's what it felt like to me. So we finally got home after the worst ride of my life. I went upstairs and went to my room, put my bag in my closet, then changed my clothes, and then laid down. I felt nauseous, weird, bored, and miserable. I also felt tired but my body wouldn't let me go back to sleep. Sooo I just watched Project MC Square and it was goood! As the episode ended mom called me devastating, because that meant that my mom was going to have to take off a couple days until I felt better. But the next day I felt way much better, I even had a Great day. So that meant my mom could go back to, at the end of the day we both got home at the same time apparently there was no traffic. When we got in the house we had so much fun because we both felt the best that we have ever felt in our lives.
