

The Little Old Lady On The Bus

By Mykenna D.

"Are we there, yet are we there yet, are we there yet" said my cousin kanyon as we drove two and a half hours from austin, Texas to Houston. In the car there were five people, my aunt katherine who was very loving and sweet, My uncle kyle who was very independent and loud. Then there were my two cousins kanyon and kindlyn, don't even get me started on kanyon so let me tell about kindlyn, she is very cute and sweet but sometimes she can be a sassy snob but she's only two and she had to learn it from somewhere and my guess is kanyon. Kanyon oh kanyon. He is very demanding, obnoxious, rude, and selfish, but sometimes he can be the nicest boy in the world. Kanyon and i fight like we are brother and sister. Five more minutes said aunt katherine, kanyon and i both yelled yayyy. When we arrived at the hotel it looked very high class and fun because there was a giant pool in the back of the hotel with a swirly slide coming down into the pool. We all walked in to the hotel and went straight to our room which was highest floor and the number was six six six and everyone knows that's the devil's number. So i was already scared and it didn't help that when i walked around the corner a cleaning lady was right there and scared me half to death. Sorry she said as the family and i walked to the hotel room. We opened the door and my eyes lit up like stars because the view out of the room was amazing.

I could stay there all night especially when kanyon is screaming because he wants to go to target and kindlyn is crying very loudly because she didn't have her bikini and last but not least aunt katherine and uncle kyle arguing about what time to wake up. All of this happening while i just sat there listening, waiting for it to stop. The next hour past and i was exhausted, and kanyon was already on a rant because he wanted more toys, not that he already has three hundred or anything. I waited for uncle kyle to take a shower so i could. Of course i was the last one. Which to me was not fair at all. Finally it was time to go to bed so i got on the couch put a sheet down and got a pillow and a blanket. As i layed there i thought about how the next day wouldn't be as terrible and of course i was wrong. At four in the morning we all woke up i was excited to go on the bus because i had never been on one before, wick kyle always makes fun of me because i'm eleven and i haven't been on a bus yet. We got our clothes on and somehow aunt katherine woke up and earlier and got donuts for all of us. Kanyon and i both looked at the donuts and dove for the box, kanyon got there first and i asked nicely and he smiled and said NO THERE ALL MINE, HAHA. i told uncle kyle and he said kanyon please give her one we got them to share. And he started crying and throwing a fit so kyle decided that he didn't want to deal with it so he just said ok kanyon whatever you want son. I walked away sad and mad. Finally it was time to go we walked outside and kanton still had the donuts. We got on the bus there were only five seats available but sadly four of them were together in the back and one was available in the front so kanyon went in the back with kindlyn and kyle and so i got stuck in the front with an old lady. She said "so u had to be seperated with the family and the donuts huh" and I sighed and said "yes". "Well you at least got a donut right" she said and i sighed again and said "no mame

Nothing is fair". I said and the next 3 words changed my attitude and way of looking at things for the rest of my life and those words were "life's not fair" when she said those words my heart warmed up and she gave me a big hug and said be happy for what you have and i thought about how i have clean clothes, a house to live in, water, food, a bed, my friends, family, and i realized that i'm very very lucky and even though life isn't fair i still have so many valuable things that those make me so lucky. When it was time to get of the bus i hugged the little old lady and said thank you so much. I walked out of the bus with the biggest smile and kanyon and kyle asked me what are you so happy and i said "the little old lady on the bus"
