Joseph had always wanted a friend that would never leave him, unlike his other friends that left him. So, after a few hours in bed trying to figure out how to make friends, he finally did. He thought that if he changed his personality and talk to everyone, he would make friends. A new morning came, Joseph got ready and went to school. He tried to talk to this one kid named Kyle, they talked for about 15 minutes, and guess what ! They became friends, and,they agreed to always be friends forever. Joseph and Kyle made new friends along their journey. All the friends had come up with a team group named The Crew. Joseph and his other friends became popular, so popular, that other kids pleaded to join The Crew. Joseph and The Crew never had a problem ever again.
