The Night Warper

This is a story about a girl named Elizabeth and she is 11 years old. Elizabeth has something wrong, that her parents don't know about. When she goes to bed she gets possessed and goes to different universes, and she turns into this six-armed butterfly that slows time. On the special day of her birthday she gets shot in the -wings and falls 10 miles down and then slams to the ground. She sees that her world is ruined and now she can't get home. The universes will surround her in front of her. The village picked her up and took to the village nurse who healed her pain. But she was stiff and could not let go back to her world. She needed the perfect medicine, and if she can't. The village tried to find a way that but it could not work, she was stuck there forever in the universe.

Then one day a nurse finds something wrong with her medicine, the perfect medicine, and if she can't she thinks it will work. So, the next day she calls Elizabeth to come to her house so she goes there and she gets a very comfy and closes her eyes and five minutes later she gets a little power back and wakes up to lie in her room all wrapped up.

She runs downstairs to see her mother and father huddled up and Elizabeth says "M, dad, I missed you", they look up to see their daughter standing in front of them on the stairs. Elizabeth runs and hugs her parents so
