The Bully

It was my first day of school ever since my mom and I moved here, and I didn't know what to expect. Would I fit in, would everyone hate me? I didn't know anyone there so I was a bit worried.

At the bust stop I noticed everybody knew each other. So I tried to get to know everyone too. Turns out everyone was really nice. Maybe school here isn't so bad after all. That's what I thought before I met "The Bully". Nobody knew what his real name was, so I just went with "The Bully" too.

When I got to class the teacher said we all have detention besides Derk. "Derk will you please come up?" I didn't even know who Derk was until "The Bully" walked up to the front of the class. Now things were getting really strange. I thought teachers put bullies in detention not everybody but bullies.

But it gets even stranger. When I got to lunch there was no teachers. There weren't even any lunch monitors. All I could see is the bully living up to his name. So when I get through the lunch line Derk walked up to me and told me "Give me your lunch new kid". I said "no". When I said that he looked shocked. I guess nobody has ever stood up to him. After the shock he tried to grab my lunch tray himself, but missed. So he tackled me. I guess he didn't notice that there weren't any teachers before. He was actually really strong for his age. Whenever I saw a opening to hit him I would punch him wherever the opening was. Soon he got tired, so he gave up. All of those stamina practiced paid off even if I'm not using it for running.

After the feud I went to the nurses's office to get some ice for the bruises, but all she did was look at the bruises and sent me back to class.

After school I went to detention but none of the other. I thought they would be there any second, but none of them came. I just sat there. After a while I noticed there was no detention monitor, and one never came so I decided to leave. If no one else has to deal with then, then I'm not dealing with it.

When I went home I told my mom about school and how weird it is. I told her about the teachers giving all of us detention but "The Bully". After I told her about school she didn't care. Now that was weirder than anything. My mom was one of the parents that if there was anything wrong at school the next thing you know she is in the office talking to the principal, and she wasn't even telling me that it would get better throughout the year. All she did was sit down and watch TV, so I went to my room and got on my computer to see if other people had the problem. Turns out a lot of other kids had the problem but no adults have the problem. So it's probably only meant for adults. Some people are saying that their parents are hypnotized. Then suddenly it hit me. I ran down stairs and asked my mom who the best person in the world is? I know what your thinking why am I asking my mom who the best in the world is she's obviously going to tell him that I am. But that is not why I am asking. It has to do with hypnotizing. Sometimes the person who hypnotized the other person will say that they're the best person in the world. I was never so happy to not hear my name and hear another name in my life. The name she said was Derk. I ran back up to my room to call 911. I then I asked the operator who the best person in the world is and she said Ed Sheeran (don't judge her). I realized that the police haven't been hypnotized, so I told them about Derk and how he hypnotized all the adults in the city. She didn't believe me so I told to look online and see for herself. After she did she realized I was right and she asked me where he lived. I didn't know because I had just moved there. So I told her that she could arrest him at school the next day.

The next day at school I saw the police talking to the principal. So I walked up to the police and told them that I was the one that called. They thanked me and told me to wait until they arrested Derk. So when Derk walked up to see what was going on. They told him to unhypnotize all the adults in the city. So that night he got all of the adults in the city to go to the school rotunda. He told them when he snapped his fingers they will all be unhypnotized. Just to make sure I asked my mom who the best person in the world is. I had never been so happy to hear my name before in my life. I know what you're thinking I solved my problem "The End" right, no that is never going to happen. Because I know that Derk is going to do something else, so until then it is going to be a "The End", but I know that it's not the last you see of Derk, but until then.
