

Hector B.

The Staircase

Once upon a time there was a boy named Josh. He really wanted to go to the moon, but he couldn't because he didn't have space gear or a rocket. One day, he went upstairs to his room but the staircase was so long. He kept walking up, he felt like was walking for hours. He started freaking out because he felt tired so he took a break.

3 hours had past and he was close to the top. While Josh was walking he wondered, "does this staircase lead to space? Would I survive the dangerous place?" Suddenly, Josh was in space! He couldn't believe his eyes! Was he dreaming? He was confused. "How am I breathing in space?" Josh wondered "Maybe I have secret powers I didn't know about?" he thought. When he was exploring a platform, he found an ugly-looking rocket. It was the only rocket there so he got on it.

Suddenly the ugly rocket and Josh blasted off to explore the wonderful galaxy. After exploring the planets, he was going to the...MOON! When Josh arrived he was flying like a superhero he didn't want to leave the Earth's neighbor so he stayed there for awhile. While he was jumping he saw slime-looking small alien. He was scared, as a scardey cat. He ran as fast as he could back into the rocket and went away. The alien was waving bye to his not-so-much-as-a-friend.

When Josh arrived at a platform he heard a familiar voice. "Josh, Josh wake up" the voice said. Josh woke up as fast as the speed of light. "Josh wake up, it's time to go to school!"

proclaimed Mom. "Ok" said Josh. "I guess that was a dream I'll never forget, I wish I could have that wonderful staircase dream again."

The End