Worst Best Day

It was a bright sunny day, you can see the shadow of a story blue house. In the backyard of this house Eliza played with Bella her cat. I'm Penny Eliza imaginary friend. We're Eliza's two best friends. Actually her only friends. Everyone thinks Eliza is weird, but she's the best. Eliza told me not to say anything but it's actually the day before her birthday. Only us three celebrated. Her parents are always too busy, sometimes they don't even know she's there. Did I mentioned it's also going to be Bella birthday. Every year we celebrate both of their birthdays on the same day. I'm sure Eliza didn't see what was coming. Bella ran out of the house chasing the neighbor's chihuahua to the street when a blue corvette speeding through the street and ran over Bella. I saw Eliza run to help Bella. She was crying and calling her mom and dad. They both came running outside they picked up Bella and rushed her to the veterinarian. The vet said bella would need x-rays and maybe surgery. That was the worse 30 minutes. Finally the vet came out and said it was only a few broken bones, we all went home. This horrible day actually brought Eliza and her parents closer together like a happy family. I just hope Eliza doesn't forget about me.
