

James and Brook

By Elena Z.

When James was ten he got his first dog. It was a German Shepard . He named her Brook , that was his grandma's name. A few years later, when James was nineteen he and his mom got in a fight. After that, he got Brook and they left. While they were walking James remembered how he always wanted to be in the military, so they walked 3 miles to the Airport. He got his ticket to Virginia and got on the plane. Brook had to go in a cage in the back of the plane. It took three hours to get from New York to Virginia. When they landed, James and Brook got in a taxi. They got off and entered the building. When James was signing up the man said "what gender is your dog?" " She's a girl and her name is Brook" James said. "Sorry, we only accept males." "But-" "No! We only accept male dogs." With that they walked out and a few blocks down there was a nice diner. They went in and the lady that was cleaning let them stay for the night. The next day James put on a disguise and walked to the building he was at the day before. He told the man all of his information. A few days later when it was time for war, James got ready to go on the battlefield, while Brook got ready to sniff out bombs. While Brook was sniffing she turned around and saw James on the floor lifeless. She ran over to James and started whining. Hours later Brook slowly walked to her cage. Then when night fell, she managed to unlock her cage and ran far away. When Brook was out of the Military area, she saw a cage in a car and jumped in. When she woke up, one person was carrying the cage, while another figure walked beside the cage. When they got in the house they threw her cage in a room full of cats and dogs. Then the two people fell asleep. The next morning one person came and got Brook and started to hurt her. She was crying because she was in pain, but mostly missed James. At night time she heard footsteps down the hall. They turned on the light. There in front of Brook was a little boy. The boy unlocked her cage, walked her to the front door and said "Go find a loving family." Brook licked him and ran away. Then Brook ran past the diner she and James stayed one night. She walked inside and the same woman who let them stay for the night was there. As a few days go on a nice lady walks into the diner. The woman kept looking at Brook. When she was done eating she walked up to Brook and said, "I'm Charlotte, you can come live with me and my daughter, Lola." Brook got up and walked to Charlotte's car. She jumped in the car and sat in the backseat. When they arrived at the house, Brook jumped out of the car and walked to the house. Charlotte unlocked the door. As Brook walked into the house, she saw a dog bed already there. "We have that bed because mom was going to get a dog" said Lola. Brook went to lay down on the dog bed. Later Charlotte came to Brook with some food and water. Then went to the store.

As it go darker Brook felt something touching her. When she got up she saw nobody there. Then she saw a ghost. It was james. It would happen when everyone was asleep. Book was happy that she saw james again, and be with him at night.
