Nightmare at L.S.E.

It was a cold rainy day on Friday the thirteenth and the students are just arriving for class that day. They were hoping that nothing bad would happen to them because it was after all, Friday the thirteenth. The announcements came on overhead and all they could notice was a weird glitch. There was static on the television and you could hear screams in the background. Then a figure came out of the screen. She had long, black hair covering her face, and wore a flowing white nightgown. She pointed at the frightened students and said, "It's the end" in a low, moaning voice. The children started screaming as she was walking closer to them. Mrs. Shipman said, "Go away" to Abigail the ghost.

Abigail was born on Friday the thirteenth and today was her anniversary to kill. She turned towards Mrs. Shipman and with her arm pointed towards her she closed her hand and somehow Mrs. Shipman could no longer talk. After she dealt with Mrs. Shipman, she turned her attention towards Brock Gilroy. Brock tried to startle Abigail by running towards her but instead he ran right through her. She was a ghost. His attempt to hurt her made her angrier that she already was. Abigail felt rejected by Brock and it reminded her of her parents when she was actually living. They never paid any attention to her and eventually they left when she was only five years old.

Abigail's desire was to take Brock with her so that she could have a playmate. She likes to have friends that will help her kill because of what her parents did to her when she was younger. Abigail died of starvation after they abandoned her. Brock didn't want to join Abigail in her world. He did not want to kill.

Mrs. Shipman was now able to talk again because the power of Abigail finally wore off. She came to Brock's defense and began beating Abigail with the yardstick. However, the yardstick went right through Abigail because she was a ghost.

The only way to have Abigail return to her world was to have her sucked up into the television again. The time was now 12:00 pm and it was time for lunch. Brock whispered to Mrs. Shipman that they should eat in the classroom so that they could somehow get Abigail back into the T.V.

Brock had a plan to get Abigail back in. He decided to get a vacuum from the janitor's office and they were going to try to suck Abigail up into the vacuum bag. Brock cornered Abigail and pointed the vacuum at her and got her up into the bag. Mrs. Shipman decided to turn the T.V. on and off over and over again until it glitched. As soon as it did glitch they put Abigail back into the television. Leon Springs then took all the televisions to the dumpster and purchased new ones. They hoped that next year they would not have a visit from Abigail again on Friday the thirteenth. What a nightmare!!
