

The Puppy With a Purpose

There once was a little golden puppy who was in the dog pound. "4 weeks for this dog then it's put down" said the exterminators. But then a robber came and stole the puppy. "Maybe we could make some money out of this puppy" said the robber but they left the puppy in the truck in the heat of the day. The puppy thought to himself "is there a purpose for me to live". Then there was a miracle a lady crashed into the truck there was glass everywhere. The puppy was walking on the side of road. A car stopped on 288 to see the poor engerd golden retriever. "Can we keep him mom please" said the boy sitting in the back of the car. "If your father says so" said mom. They ended up keeping the puppy they named him buddy. Naythen played with buddy until he left for college. Buddy was getting old, but then he woke up in dog's medical center. Naythen rushed 46 miles down the road to see Buddy. Once he got to the medical center. Buddy was luckily still alive. Buddy thought to himself "I have a purpose to live that purpose was the hope and love my mother gave me and I gave to Naythen.
