

Spink and the Incredible Slime Friend

Spink was bored because it was Friday and he was grounded and he kept saying, "Can i get out now?" Spink kept saying, "Is 30 minutes up yet?" So then he snuck out his bedroom and then went straight back to his bedroom so he wouldn't get caught. Finally it was Saturday. He was so excited to go to science club because he always found out new things. He made a slime that could talk. Spink and the would talk everyday. They had soooooooooooooooooooooooooooooooooooooo much in common. They liked each other so much that...Spink named the slime. His name was Michael Moody. They would eat together, bring each other to school and they did everything together!!!!!! One day later it was Tuesday and Spink woke up and noticed that Michael got bigger. Michael said "I want more food." Michael said angrily, "I want more food!" Michael Moody was getting bigger everyday. One random day he got out his big container and Spink woke up and saw Michael was missing he looked forever and found him in the garage. Spink made his cage even more safe. It was Saturday and science club was canceled . Spink looked at Michael. They chatted for hours. Spink and Michael thought, "Let's go annoy Jedy!" Spink and Michael snuck into Jedys bedroom and screamed as loud as they could "HELLO" and Jedy said "what the what." Spink and Michael were happy the whole day. Michael ate some of Spinks socks (they were so stinky). Nooooooooooooooooooooo said Spink said "those were my world stinkiest socks in the world." One month later. It was time to go to science club and they didn't do anything interesting. Next Saturday it was science club and they made another slime! To be continued.
