

Babysitter

By: Taylor M.

Hi my name is Tesa. I have two younger brothers one is named John and one is named Michael. Sometimes my parents go out to dinner because they say that John and Michael get to hyperactive around them and they need a break. Well that happened last night and we got one of the nicest babysitters in town. Her name is Amanda. When she first got here John and Michael seemed nice around her. But once mom and dad left they went crazy. First they trapped her in the laundry room. When she was in there I guess she decided to do the laundry. But after that somehow she got out of there. Michael and John were so scared that they ran and trampled her headphones. Amanda was really mad but she got over it after awhile. This whole time I was just sitting in the living room watching. But then Amanda came in and started talking to me. Then her phone started to ring and she started talking on the phone by the way she was talking I could tell she was very popular at school. After she got off the phone I asked her who it was and she said it was her friend and that she would be coming over she said her name was Ariana. About 15 minutes later Ariana knocked on the door and Amanda answered it. Ariana had long blonde hair and green eyes she looked like she was about 6 feet tall. Amanda has long brown hair that's wavy and she has pretty blue eyes and she is about 6 feet tall too. Ariana was here for about an hour talking with Amanda about high school stuff that I didn't understand then she left. Then about half an hour later mom and dad came home and Amanda left. She hadn't told on John and Michael and what they did. Once Amanda left mom and dad noticed that she had done the laundry and thought that we had done it. And they were surprised because we never do chores even when we're asked to so they gave us 10 extra dollars on our allowance which we normally get $15 and now we got 25$. The next day they took us to the store to get something with our money and we all agreed to buy Amanda a new pair of headphones. And they weren't any old headphones they were Bluetooth wireless headphones even though it cost us all of our allowance she was worth it because she's the nicest babysitter ever. That night mom and dad drove us over to Amanda's house to give her the headphones and she was really happy. She whispered in my ear and told me, I look forward to babysitting you again.
