

James the basketball player

By Jose A.

James liked to play basketball. He was always outside practicing shooting baskets and dribbling. He had asked his parents for a while to let him play in basketball league, but unfortunately his parents told him there was not enough money. James was disappointed!

Two years later on his 10th birthday James woke up to a little envelope his parents left for him at breakfast. To James surprise it was a game schulde. He didn't know his parents had saved up to send him to basketball camp and now he could play in a league. James was so excited !!!

He worked even harder and spent longer hours outside practicing. Then came his first game. On his very first game he scored a basket ((swish)) nothing but net . James became an even greater Basketball player and went to play in middle school, high school and even college.

Lsu had offered him a scholarship to play basketball. His parents were very proud of him. All the time and effort James had put into basketball were paying off.

James went on to get drafted by the la lakers first pick!!!

Now James had to work even harder, as his dreams were now becoming true.

After he won mvp most valuable player 12 times and won three pointer contest six Times.
