

SOFIA'S ART DREAM!!!!!!

By: Elise B.

A long, long time ago there was a girl named Sofia. She was terrible at drawing. She liked to draw people but all she could draw was stick people. Every time she tried to draw a person it looked very bad. Sofia drew stick legs and arms, dots for eyes and not very styled hair. Everyone at school made fun of her when they saw her drawings of different people. They would say things like, "That doesn't even look like her!" or "That's a stick man!"

Every day Sofia would go home and practice drawing. She would work in her sketch pad and imagine people with difference faces, bodies and hair and try to draw them. She didn't want to draw simple stick figures. She wanted to become a famous artist. Then one day an artwork idea came to her mind: a family drawing. She decided to draw her dad, mom, herself and her little brother. She asked her family to sit still for a while so she could figure out how to draw them. They sat there for a long time while Sofia drew, erased and drew. After she was done, she colored her artwork with bright colors. Her family loved the family portrait that Sofia had created. Her mom wanted to frame it and put it on the wall but Sofia asked if she could first take it to school. Her mom said, "Yes."

Then the next day at school she told the kids that she was really good at drawing but still they did not believe her so she pulled the drawing of her family out of her pocket. When her friends saw the family portrait they did believe that she was a great artist and they all wanted Sofia to draw portraits of them.

As Sofia got older she kept drawing people and started selling her art because people loved how beautifully she drew. She earned millions of dollars and a lot of cents. Even the kids who teased her in school wanted to buy her art. Sofia's dream was to become a great artist so she challenged herself and with daily practice she reached her goal.
