

The First War

By Tyson W. and Corben H.

Chapter 1 – My Family

First of all, I'm Cody. I am twelve years old. I have twin sisters, Elisabeth and Eliza, two sixteen-year-olds. Edna, my mom, is always working on planes for the Air Force. My hard-working father always brings the sarcasm.

Chapter 2 – Air Force

My father is gone for months at a time, because he is in the Air Force.

“My son has asked me a million times to go to the Air Force with me. Both of my daughters learned how to drive. I watched them the whole way until...”

Chapter 3 – The Crash

“My girls turned on a muddy road and started to slide and slip. Then they hit a tree and jumped out of the car. They called 911. They were all right but the cat, not so much.”

Chapter 4 – A Death

Two months later my dad went on a ship to get to Texas to get to the Air Force airport, but on the way there the ship sunk. Dad drowned – down to the bottom of the sea along with the boat and everyone else on the ship.

Chapter 5 – The News

It was four years later and dad still hasn't come back. Today a news boy came to our house. Mom immediately washed up in tears, so I went and got the mail. I read the mail and started bawling too. When the girls saw the news, they started crying too. We were crying so hard our house almost flooded with tears.

Chapter 6 – The Funeral

For the funeral we all dressed up nice. We were very serious the whole time. Dad was in the box thing. After died I know life would never be the same.
