

Orange

By: Lilayla V.

I'm in 6th grade, and ever since I was a younger girl, I always had this dream that everyone was nice and treated fairly. Until one day on the bus that I take to school I woke up. I woke up to the screams of "THIS GIRL RIGHT HERE!"

I looked back and a boy was pointing to my friend. This boy continued screaming, "THIS GIRL RIGHT HERE IS UGLY AND DISGUSTING!"

I stared at my friend and she looked like she was going to cry. I immediately acted. I started talking loudly, trying to drown out this boy's words. I told her, "Don't even worry about it just ignore him."

After that I changed the subject. I really do not remember what I said, but when we got off the bus to go home she told me, "THANK YOU SO MUCH FOR HELPING ME." That I do remember clearly.

On October 25th, my brother's school and my mother's work place where asked to wear the color orange. This color now represents people's support for bullying PREVENTION.

BULLYING ISN'T RIGHT AND EVEN IF YOU DON'T MEAN IT, IT CAN HURT SOMEONE. Orange you glad you read my story?
