

Luke H.

The Dragon Slayer

Three thousand years ago a dragon arose from the ground in revenge to kill the king of a mighty kingdom. The dragon was furious when his brother was killed by the king. When he rose, he destroyed everything in his path. Everyone screamed and ran for their lives. Then, as all seemed lost a prince came and saved the day.

Everyone was having a wonderful day. Loaves of bread were being sold, kids were playing around, but this one important thing was going on. It was the day of the royal wedding. The prince was getting married, everyone was excited.

Then, an earthquake shook the entire kingdom. The prince took out his sword in defense. Then they saw it, a ferocious dragon peeked out from the ground ready to kill anything in its path. It started out a couple miles away destroying all the near villages forcing everyone to leave their homes.