

The Treasure Hunt

The Adventure family loved to explore new places, and one day they found half of a treasure map. They were curious to find out more, but little did they know it was cursed.

They decided to look for the treasure and on their first night they decided to follow the maps' directions. The map led them to a farm and they were confused about what kind of treasure they would find. They started to explore the farm, and then they found a crack in the ceiling. The crack in the ceiling lead them to a small door. Behind the door, they found the other half of the map and now they were able to continue the hunt.

With the map now complete, it led them to a library and it also gave them the title of a book. When they looked through the whole book, Mrs. Adventure found a letter that the pirate wrote saying, "Follow these 3 symbols and you will find the treasure".

One was a bow, the other was a bird, and the third they had never seen before and they were confused what it was. The symbols led them to an old and odd cave. They decided to split up and look around, suddenly the youngest son found something strange, and he was so HAPPY! He found gold and lots of money!

Then, Mr. Adventure found another map that lead them to a very small cave. When they arrived, they found a treasure box and they took pictures with their findings. They found money, gold, a microphone, a watch, a crown, and one gold gun. Suddenly, they heard a laugh out of nowhere. They got scared, they put everything back except for the crown, the money, and the watch and they ran quickly to the car to get away.

About a week later, the youngest son could not breath. So, they went to the hospital, and he had to get a can of oxygen because he was having trouble breathing and no one knew why. At first, the son was the only one that thought it was a curse from their previous journey, but his parents didn't think that. The child ended up dying, and no one knew why. The Adventures then remembered what their son told them and now they believed that it was a curse. This story is true. People died many years ago looking for this treasure they drowned, died of hunger, died for strange reasons.
