By Zylene E.

So there was a girl and she had a goal. And her name was Zylene. First she thought her talent was dancing but she started to watch videos of gymnastics. Then she said to herself I want to do that. So she asked her mom and her mom said yes yes! She said. Thank you thank you so much I love you! When do I start she said you start next week her mom said ok! She said I can't wait for it she said. What day is it Monday mom said? When the day came she jumped for joy then then one day she did a competition and she won the medal. Than this coach asked if she can go on the team. Zylene said yes than one day she was dreaming of her being in the Olympics. Then when she went to gymnastics she would push herself to the limit. Because she pushed herself she made to the Olympics now she made her long time goal and she is one of the best Olympic gymnast out there yes!!
