

The Legend of the Multiplying Cake

Once upon a time there was a chef who made cakes. But, one day the chef got tired of normal cakes. So, he pulled out a recipe book and flipped to page 666. The recipe was multiplying cake. All it said was "Mix any cake batter you want then add this page in and beware!" So, the chef did as it said very confused. But, this cake is a very special cake. This cake multiplies by 10 when you pull it out of the oven and place it down. But, the chef didn't know. So, after the cake finished cooking he pulled it out, but before he placed it he wanted to add sugar but he got distracted. So, he added salt instead! So instead of multiplying by 10, it would multiply by 100,000! But, he was still distracted so he almost fainted. He had no idea where they came from so to think he made a cake, but he accidentally made the multiplying cake and added salt instead of sugar so it multiplied 100,000 by 100,000! So, then he had reached the limit of cake in one shop all the cakes came together as one and then GULP, swallowed him and the chef was never seen again.

The End.
