

The Sacrifice

By: Sunny S

One day a family near the desert has a serious hazards. There was tornado and a sand storm. The family tried their hardest to survive. They tried lasting in there house as long as they could, but things got worse. A bunch of things were flying everywhere and they tried not to get caught in the hazards. Until, the daughter was to light and she was getting pulled towards the tornado. While the sand was going into her eyes. While she was getting pulled, the brother ran after her to save her. So he jumped, got her and pushed her back, but unfortunately the brother died. He made that sacrifice for her. After the tornado and sand storm, they were crying and the sister was wishing she could thank him. Now they would live with that sacrifice.