

A story about Michel

Michel was outside playing with his dog Buck. Michel had a toy in his hand. Michel threw the toy so far it went in their front yard. So his dog went to go get it and Michel waited for him. But Buck never came back. So Michel got worried and went to go check but he didn't see his dog. Michel started to cry but then he came up with an idea. Michel grabbed a paper and put "lost dog" and his phone number. Then he ran as fast as he could to a copy machine and made hundreds of copies. The next day he took all the copies he had and put them everywhere. After that he waited by the phone for weeks feeling sad. Nobody called so Michel started to give up faith. The next day he started to take down all the copies he had. Twenty minutes later there was a phone call so Michel answered and somebody said they found his Buck. When Michel heard he jumped up in the air and ran as fast as he could. Then Michel saw Buck and hugged him so hard. Michel said "thank you". The guy said "no problem".
