

Naula's Secret Mission

It was 11:59 p.m. and it was almost our time. At 12:00 a.m. we would strike. 5 seconds! 3,2,1, and.... Wait a minute I can't tell you a story from the middle. I haven't even introduced myself!

Ok my name is Naula Owens. I'm 15 years old and in high school enjoying my life, totally NORMAL right! No!!! I am a spy. Shhhhhh! Please don't spill the beans! Although I already have.

I tell almost everyone I am a spy but no one believes me, which is good now that I think of it. Luckily only my two best friends believe, Kennedy and Kaula. The thing is I haven't told my parents my friends know we are spies. I already know I will be in big trouble.

Oh! I didn't tell you yet! I am not the only spy, my older brother, and my younger sister, both my parents and grandparents. My whole family and even better, more people from around the world! There is a secret base located... where I can't tell you of course or it wouldn't be such a secret base! Oh! how you wish you are a spy right now. Hahaha! Although it sounds fun, it is very hard. You have to be really quiet, and quick, you also need some good moves, and be sarcastic. Ok that is optional. That is mostly in the movies. But at least it makes you seem like a cool spy! Alright you are still waiting for the rest of the story.

So, it was summer break and there had been a bunch of crimes lately, and the only things that had been taken were emeralds, even when there were more priceless things! So, the head of the spy base called my parents, so we headed to the base. We used the secret tubes in our house that sucks us down to where we want. But to activate it, we had to scan our eyes. Super advanced technology! We got to the base in about 5 minutes. When we entered one of the rooms Mr. Quaker the researcher for the Spy Corp (our base) said he found some exclusive information. Which was the best thing we had heard in a while.

"All the crimes on specifically emeralds were for a very important reason. These guys have apparently teamed up with the most powerful bad guys in the world." Said Mr. Quaker. He continued, "They want to build a staff that can control minds and other crazy stuff and they need emeralds and all the most valued objects from each continent." "Well that is some good info!" My mom exclaimed.

When my Grandparents were young they recovered one of the stolen special items from these guys, but still couldn't defeat them, I don't know if we can.

The next day my parents left on a mission they had to spy in two different locations. They caught a few guys, brought them to base, and forced them to talk. As always Mom playing the bad cop and Dad the nice cop. The next day I asked Mr. Quaker what the guys spilled. "All they said was one down six to go." He said.

I told the professor they already took the valued object from a continent, but what continent? We found out they stole an object from North America when we checked the news. I told Mr. Quaker we need to send out spies to other continents and fast!

I should have kept my mouth shut, now me and my family were sent to Australia. I have to admit I am scared, but I have to be brave. Two days later we arrive in Australia! It was not as bad as I thought it would be. It was very hot! The first few days was family time, because weren't going to come all this way just for spying! So, we went to a splash park. My 12-year-old sis just played at the water playground with other kids. I went to go play with my her, then I saw something suspicious. There was a man in a black jacket looking down at the paper in his hand and when he looked up and saw me coming towards him he started to run. I caught up to him and pinned him to the floor. He told me he was trying to find a hidden object here, so I stole his map and called security. When I told my parents, they were proud of me for being on the job still, while having fun. My sister had to get the object because it was partially sticking out of the wall in a corner in the water playground. We got two items, awesome!!! We got some great news that night, four other spies got special items- one more left, which is the one the bad guys have.

We had to head to Hawaii because Spy Corp. said that is where they are. It was 11:59 p.m. at 12:00 a.m. we would strike 5,4,3,2,1! Twenty-five spies were there, and they started to run in using their lasers, but they were caught right away. It was only us left. My friends were here for vacation, so I asked my mom in a calm way if they could help. "You told people about our secret?!!" She yelled so loud. I told her It was not time to argue just let them come. She calmly nodded so I called them, and I told them the do's and don'ts of spies and told them what they were here to do. They were going to help all the spies escape while we fight for them and grab the item. It went exactly as planned and we got the special items and saved the world! We went back home, and my parents threw a party for me since I helped everyone escape. It was the best mission ever!
