

Hello, my name is Olivia, and boy are you in for a treat.

I've liked this boy for over two months now. One day he came up to me and said, "Olivia will you go out with me?" I was surprised because I didn't even know he knew my name, and now he wanted to date me!? I said yes and told everyone in the whole school, I was so gosh darn happy. I even told my mom. The next day he walked me to during first period and gave me a kiss on the cheek, I almost fainted with glee. After that I didn't see him until lunch and I sat with him, and his friends instead of mine. We isolated ourselves from the group and chatted for the whole lunch period. Then, he walked me to third period and kissed me on the cheek liked he did before.

The next two months were heaven for me, I had a perfect boyfriend who loved and cared for me, until one day. I remember this day like it was yesterday. We walked together to orchestra and out of the blue he said, "We're done!" I was shocked. "I never liked you," he continued "it was a dare, I had to pretend to be your boyfriend for the rest of the school year, but you're so annoying-" I cut him off with a hard slap on the face "OH MY GOD" I screamed, people started to stare "YOU DATED ME AS A RESULT OF A DARE?!? I SHOULD'VE HAVE NEVER TRUSTED YOU" I yelled then walked away. The rest of the day I was silent, my teachers and friends started to worry, especially Mrs. Dubec and Kaelyn, my best friend and favorite teacher. After school that day I got off the bus and as soon as I entered my room, I collapsed to my knees and started balling. Once I was done with my mental break down, I made some tea and watched sad Netflix movies with Kaelyn.

The next day at school was a blur, I was silent just like the day before but sat at my normal lunch table, my friends were surprised to see me there and I told them the whole story. The next week went pretty well, to be dealing with a break up, and I quickly forgot about it and moved on quickly. I now have new boyfriend and his name is Jake and he is so dear to my heart; I love him so much and I know he will never hurt me.
