

Bionic Dog

“Come here boy ! Who’s a good dog ? You are ! “ said Cason, the owner of Armando the coolest dog on the planet. Or at least he was to Cason . Cason loves Armando they have been together since they were babies . the only other person that was important to him other than his dad who died when he was three . The other person was his mom he always cared and took care his mom at least when he was old enough to take care of her. He always felt like he understood her I mean once he learned that people have emotions , he did . Then he started calling her by her first name , Cali , but that stopped very quick . Armando and Cason have never been apart until , Hurricane Harvey on August , 17 2017 . They were at the grocery store when it happened . Cason had warned his mom but she didn’t listen , she went to the store anyway . They had to get out of the store immediately . They trampled out of the door , rushed to find their car and started to drive off. Cason was begging his mom to turn back to go get Armando , but again she would not listen . She was too busy making calls , making sure they had somewhere to stay when they got out of Houston. By the time she got off of the phone it was too late , they had already left Houston , Armando was left and so were all their prized possessions. Cason was heartbroken the whole drive he said nothing. Not a word his mom felt so bad she thought he would never talk to her again. But the one thing he had said was “ Mom did we have to leave Armando there?”, Cason said. It took his mom a bit to take in what he had just said. Finally , she came back with a response , “ Cason I am so sorry this whole ride I have experienced guilt . I feel so bad but just keep in mind that I left some things behind as well . You weren’t the only person leaving things back home.” The rest of the ride was completely silent, Cason had fallen asleep. His mom ,was experiencing emotions but most of her emotions were mixed. She couldn’t decide if she was confused or worried or mad or sad , she felt like she was all of them at the same time . Cason woke up . He was so worried his mom wasn’t in the car but then soon he realized that she was inside the corner store and she had just left him in the car that way he could sleep. When he got worried like that back home he would have squeezed amando and rubbed his ears . If he did that Armando knew that he was scared. He missed special moments like that with Armando . He missed Armando . Armando meant the world to him he couldn’t go without armando for an hour how was he supposed to live without him completely . Soon later his mom got in the car. As soon as she got in the car she realized that Cason was awake . She offered him to a bag of chips but he said no . She had gotten the chips that he doesn’t like that much but sometimes he eats them anyway. Just to make her not feel bad , sometimes he feels like it is his purpose to do things like that . Then Cason started thinking about Armando for almost half of the drive he had forgotten about him . In his mind he thought that that was horrible . Soon they had arrived at Cason's aunt's house. . He told her hello you know what he always does when he goes into somebody's house . Sooner or later he started worrying about Armando . I mean he knew he would sooner or later but he felt like it was too early . Now he was paranoid , the questions he was asking himself were making him even crazier . What if he can't survive because he has no food , what happens if he escapes . He felt like he had a job and he did and it was to protect Armando . And of course he had thought that he had failed at that job . Armando on the other hand was a very smart dog indeed he was . To prove he was a smart dog he would open the fridge and dump his food over in order to eat or when he was hungry . Surely he would survive . here is what Armando was up to , he had been found by an intelligent scientist and engineer . boy was he lucky . He was put into a van with a bunch of other dogs . Soon they had arrived at a destination . the door had opened and then it slammed . Oh boy how was he supposed to get back home he didn't even know how to read . then , he took Armando out of the car and they walked into an abandoned building . Luckily this guy was nice . he could have put armando in a kennel , he could have thrown him but he didn't . Soon he stated using all these weird gadgets and stuff . Armando had no idea what they were yet what they did . After that the human had stopped experimenting on him . Then he had given him some food and some water . how did he know what kind of food he ate ? then he had stuck something in him and he felt nausea he fell into a dark sleep . And two days later he remembered where he lived and what street he lived on . he could finally return home . He felt so smart and full of energy . He was overly excited . He finally got to go home . When he finally started setting out for his journey a car had gotten in his way suddenly he had remembered his licence plate and his car it was them it really was them he was so excited , Cason jumped out of the car with excitement . That was the whole plan she had done that on purpose and just on the right time when the had to leave because of Hurricane Harvey it all made sense now the whispering on the phone . He couldn't thank his mom enough .
