

The Princess and the Dragon by Zion S.

Once upon a time there was a foolish Prince and a princess named Madlen that lived in a beautiful castle. One day Madlen went into the Dragon Forest and found a dragon. The dragon suddenly woke up. The dragon said, "You woke me from my sleep?"

"I did" said the princess.

"Why" asked the dragon?

"Because I need you to blow this foolish Prince from the castle", I replied. "If you do, I will give you whatever you want."

So, the dragon blew the Prince far, far away. Then the dragon asked, "What is your name?"

"My name is Madley." The Princess answered. "Now, what do you want most?"

"What I want most is a friend." The dragon replied.

"Okay., I'll be your friend", Madley said.

"Yay", jumped the dragon and they lived happily ever after.
