

The Dancing Lady...

by Priscilla

It all started when a kid saw an old, grumpy lady in a white dress dancing on the road. Little did she know the dancing lady is bad. She kept staring at her dancing. After she kept staring at her dancing lady, she randomly started staring at her, then the girl stopped looking. After, she looked back and she had disappeared.

The girl was terrified, and she was alone in the house. She hid and called 9-1-1 because she was scared. She locked all the doors and windows, then went to her room. After that she heard banging downstairs! She was still on the phone with 0-1-1. But, it was the dancing lady! She was walking upstairs and the girl hid in the closet. The police came but the girl was nowhere to be found. She got kidnapped and was never found again.

Rumors went by and people said she might've gotten taken by the dancing lady.

The End