This story is about a shark named Bud now, he has a friend, Jelly is his name they do everything together they do fish tag. Swirl competition's, and even see who's the better scarer and one crazy thing is a shark and a jellyfish are friends and one day they were playing and Bud said I want to go hunting in the coal woods but I have no treasurer Jelly said the same thing things were looking bad, Bud and Jelly could not both do something so they have to come up with a plan so they thought lets clean up the sea so that's what they did but they knew that this will take a long time they estimated that it will take five sea years that's a long time (in sea years) but if bud and Jelly wanted to go hunting in the coal woods they had to do it but the hunting senter cost fifty three hundred treasurer so five sea years later they both got as mush as they needed but there was only two minets until the coal woods close so thay got there in time and they got to hunting. THE END
