

Derek P.

Robo-lution

Is the year 3,099 and technology has advanced a lot, the robots were everywhere to help or make humans life easy. That was until some robots decided to begin a war, a Robo-lution against humanity, now almost every robot in the planet is contaminated with a faulty virus designed to make them attack people instead of serving them.

How the robots did this? Months ago a huge robot came to the middle of New York, announcing that Earth is for robots! He had a control said: -Robots of Earth! Our days of serving petty humans are over! And press a button he sent a powerful signal. All the robots went haywire against people, causing suffering a pain around the world. Some humans could escape from the robots like me and Christopher hiding in the shadows ever since.

Dr. James Lake, a robotic engineer along with his wife who was the most advanced hacker of our era were working to find out the main leader of the robots who calls himself CHAOS and re-program it hoping to stop the Robo-lution. The robots found about their discoveries and burned the laboratory trapping them inside.

My name is Matthew Lake, and probably you are going to think I'm crazy for what I'm going to tell you but it is true, I made this control that if I press this button robots can be deactivated but without my parents laboratory, I can only use it one time before needing to change batteries and I must be very close to the robot for it to work, but if I could get close to CHAOS control could fuse the two controls and use his power to deactivate all the robots.

That is why I need to enter the fortress of Chaos! Despite me knowing that is almost an impossible task. Christopher looked at me with hope every time I talked about this. He said:-

What do you think it will happen if your theory about deactivating all the robots is right? I chuckled and said...

-We are about to find out! Are you ready? I asked even though I knew the answer.

-Yes, Matthew which one is the plan this time?

A few moments after the two friends go to the middle of the street then Matthew very brave says: HEY ROBOTS! I bet you can't catch me! I heard Christopher screamed: YES! We are here come on get us! Two big robots started chasing after us and pretty soon we got caught. Once we were in the entrance of the fortress of CHAOS I was telling to Christopher that we needed to act scared and wait when the robots were almost going to put us in the cage I grab my control and pressed the button immediately the two robots got deactivated.

Christopher and I ran to find the throne of CHAOS but first I needed to replace the batteries and put new ones then. I felt a rush of adrenaline couldn't help thinking, finally I'm going to revenge my parents! Then Christopher said: Mathew! CHAOS throne is here! We had seen this many times in the screens but never made it this far. Frantically I look around to see if CHAOS is there but can't find him or his special remote it seems that is going to be more difficult than I thought but we made it so far I can't stop! I won't stop now!

I heard a loud thud and look back Christopher was on the ground and I see CHOS hovering over him. My thoughts were running so fast I couldn't even register the whole scene. I also see the remote. Before I could realize the fight to save the humanity and my friend life begun. CHAOS! I heard myself scream, I'm here to finish this! The robots will finally get what they serve! He charged after me, a spectacular fight for the human kind unraveled.

To be continued.