Evie is first daughter of the United States. Evie is not spoiled. She loves to make new friends. Evie had lots and lots of friend. Evie had never gotten bullied before. But, one day she had gotten bullied by the new kid at school. The person that bullied Evie had no friends at all she thought about being his friend but at the same time she thought she shouldn't be his friend. Evie thought and thought about it for a long time. When she got home she thought some more. Then finally, she said maybe I just need to talk to him so the next day that's exactly what she did. But when she tried to speak to him he just ignored him. At lunch he sat alone but Evie hated seeing people lonely so Evie sat down next to him and tried to create a conversation, but all he did was ignore Evie.

After school was over, Evie hopped on the bus the bully was right next to her. Evie picked a spot on the bus next to her friend named Emily. The bully sat down behind Evie and Emily. The bully kicked the back of Evie's seat. When Evie got off the bus she walked straight to her room to do her homework. She looked at t the paper and said hmm...math. I'm too good at math well I'll just ask mom to help me after dinner she said. Two minutes later her mom called time for dinner. At dinner when her mom asked her how her day was, she said fine. What happened to make you so grumpy her mother asked? Evie told her parents what happened she said, "I'm getting bullied at school." Her mother said, "you should've told us sooner. Tomorrow me and your father don't have work to do we can go to the school and talk to the principal about the bully." No!" said Evie. I don't want to tell on him. Evie's mother said, "well how do you expect me to help you?"

So the next day at recess, Evie asked the bully if he wanted to be her friend but he just ignored her. Evie thought about it when she got home she said to herself maybe his family is having a bit of trouble. The next day, Evie walked up to the bully and said why do you bully me? The bully said because I'm new and I don't have any friends. Evie said that's not the way that you get friends. You politely ask the person that you want to be friends with will you be my friend?

Thanks the bully said for what said Evie for telling me how to make new friends no problem said Evie. The bully asked will you be my friend? Sure, said Evie. From then on the bully and Evie were best friends. They had play dates, they went to birthday parties, and took tours around the White House. Now Evie had another friend to add to her friend list.
