

Lost Boy

Gabrielle W. – 4th Grade

It was 2000. There was an interesting nine year old boy named Owen Duran. He was a peculiar boy he always made a weird sound like this “piccity bitty”. And he lived on a street called Crime Lane. He had four BFFs. Jack, Ivy, Elijah, and his crush Millinda. Millinda is nine years old with red locks of hair. Brown eyes like chocolate. And a smile that can make a rainbow. Elijah has black hair and blue eyes, P.S. he dyed his hair. A small smile and a few stiches on his chin. Jack and Ivy are twins with blue eyes, blonde hair, and a huge grin. One day we all went for some ice cream from Izzy’s Ice Cream Palace. Owen/me realized someone sneaking in the back of the building. I told my friends and we went there. After that all I glanced at was brown as in a brown bag. And then we were in a very dark shack. I made our group signal and I heard back that’s how I knew they’re ok. Millinda signaled me to use my pocket knife, she’s so smart “swoon”. I used the pocket knife and tore the bag open then Millinda she said these exact words, thank you. You’re my hero even though it was my idea she whispered. And gave me a kiss on the cheek. I unraveled my other friends and we all agreed we should take down the kidnapper/burglar. When he came into the shack we all jumped on him. A brick fell on him I guess from the shack. Ivy went on her knees and put her ear to his chest put on a frown and said he’s alive. We should take him to the police Jack said. You’re right I say I’ll take him. He was heavy and it was a long walk to the station. Then I noticed a poster on a tree, it said wanted Reward $1,000,000,000. I sent him there with my friends stopped to take the bill and the kidnapper was never heard from again until he ran away from jail. Find out what happens next!
