

Author: Jordan B

CHAPTER 1

Once upon a time, there was a little elf girl named Elara. Her dream was to go to a different dimension. But, she was only 10 years old, so all she could do was play with her friend Max. One day, Elara and Max were playing a sport called Crollball (soccer.) The score was 3-2 and Elara was behind, and if you know Elara, she is out of this world competitive. So then Elara dribbled the ball to the goal, took a shot then missed. Max told her to go get the ball since it rolled into a bush. She was almost into the bush then, then the bush started glowing! She went into the bush to find the source of the light and the light was a glowing ball. She went to get the glowing ball and when she grabbed the ball everything went silent.

CHAPTER 2

When she came out of the bush she saw that the bush was green not pink unlike her dimension. She was shocked she could not feel anything except the burning sensation in her hand. She looked down at her hand which was glowing red because of the glowing ball. She looked at the roads which were black not white. She went to a restaurant named Fred's pizzeria. When she opened the door she went to pay for something called pasta with her money. When the worker said they did not accept her money she was shocked.

CHAPTER 3

She went out to the streets and she begged for people to help her with the glowing ball but no one helped. It took hours until she gave up, went to an alleyway and fell asleep in a big saggy cardboard box. She dreamed about never seeing her family again and living in this dimension. The next day came and she went to get some help on the ball. Luckily a person that was tall, skinny and wearing glasses came and helped her. She thanked him and went to the same bush she came out of and put in numbers in the ball and held it tight. She came out of a pink bush and she saw Max and her family standing there looking very worried. She ran to them and hugged them really tight.