Ren and his parents come back from Ren's Baseball game. Scott starts barking. Ren won the game against the Redwings . It was late at night ,so Scott had to go to bed. Scott is a two- year-old dog .The next morning when Scott woke up he barked as usual . Today is Scott's Birthday ,Ren's parents set up all the things for his birthday . Ren's grandparents are coming over today . ren's parents got Scott a cake FILLED with peanut butter . Ring ring Scott barked , grandma & grandpa are here . Scott got SO excited that he was jumping all on them.

Dad got mad at Scott . Grandma & Grandpa opened the door to get the rest of their stuff. Ren came with them ,but he forgot to close the door , so then Scott went running out. Scott ran all the way to downtown bashdrop. He ran for so long he got tired ,so he sat on the sidewalk in the alley. Ren's family got so sad. The next day Ren's family put up the lost pet signs. Scott went looking for his family for five straight days and still couldn't find his family. He got so tired that he fell straight to sleep. His family got so sad that Ren didn't even go to school . They looked so much for Scott . Scott got sad too and every once and a while Scott would think he saw his family.Scott got more sad & lonely, so did his family. Ren's grandparents eventually left to go to their house. Scott started running to try to find his family , but he just couldn't remember where his family's house was. Ren & his parents went to a Post Malone concert . They thought it was amazing, but they were still sad. His family got Post Malone T-shirt. Ren's grandparents came back to cheer them up ,but they just couldn't cheer them up .Ren & his family just started to forget about Scott & all that happened . Ren & his parents went to the pet shop to get a new dog . They couldn't decide on which one to buy to make themselves happier . They couldn't decide which one was either a brown & black dog (just like Scott ) or a white & black dog. They decided to get the black & brown dog to remind them about Scott . They named him Lincoln.The next day they went downtown to take down the missing signs , but then Scott came running back from a long run and saw his family. Scott was so happy , so was his family . His family was SO happy , then they took him home . They put his leash on & took him on a walk. The next day they took down all the lost signs . The END!
