The Awesome Hunter

Hunter is a boy who likes every sport. He likes baseball, basketball, football, soccer, and all other sports. One day he has 4 practices on the same day. He decides to pick his favorite sport. He picks football. So, he goes to football practice and everybody is so mean to him because he showed up a little late. They will not help him, they will not talk to him, and they won't teach him their tricks. So, he decides to quit football. He is going to try baseball. He is so good they put him on Operation Baseball Academy. When he gets there, the guys are so nice. They help him, they talk to him, and they teach him their tricks. Baseball became Hunter's new favorite sport. Eventually Hunter had to quit all the other sports so he can focus on baseball. Hunter was so happy that he picked baseball. He also played college baseball and then he played in the MLB. Hunter because the greatest baseball player there ever was.
