

A Dream Come True

By: Emma L.

There is a girl named Chloe who dreamed of being a dancer. Every time she heard a song she would dance around the room. She begged to take classes, but her mom said they didn't have the money.

Chloe tried so many solutions like running a lemonade stand, walking dogs, and even mowing the grass but she just couldn't get the money to get into a dance class. Chloe sadly watched her neighbor leave for dance class often, but she would never give up on her dream.

One day, Chloe was walking down the street when she past a dance studio and saw a scholarship sign in the window. Next week, they would do a dance off, and the to dancers would get a scholarship to the studio. She practiced all week and perfected her dance.

On the day of the dance off, Chole decade her heart out and won the scholarship. She was so happy! Chloe went to classes as soon as possible. The classes were all she dreamed of, and Chloe made so many friends there.

At the end of the year, Chloe was the lead dancer in several dances at her first recital. Even better, she earned a scholarship to continue dancing at the studio. Chloe knew this was the start of a dance career she always dreamed of.
