

The Enchanted Forest

By Jacie T.

Once upon a time there were three sisters: Lora, Ashley, and Sarah. They lived in a cabin deep in the forest where creatures roamed and where nature grew so pretty! But one day the three sisters had to head out with their magical pets and powers because of a fire in the forest. To mention the three sisters have powers: Lora has nature, Ashley has weather, and Sarah has element power! The sisters also have magical pets. So anyway... They rushed out of their cabins and out of the forest, and they got out. Lora the 15-year-old said we must find a new home to live in fast! Ashley the 13-year-old said you're right, but where? But Sarah the 20-year-old had an idea. She said let's build a cabin with our powers in this forest. Ashley and Lora agreed. They started building. In 4 hours they were done. They got settled, fed their magical animals, and the sisters ate. They all heard this weird laughing voice. They looked at each other and started following the sound! They got to this dark cave and saw this witch stirring a bubbling pot. Lora said that's weird! Sarah said let's go in there. The sisters were scared, but they said okay. The sister knocked on the door. They heard the voice say come in. The sisters got in and the witch said what do you want!!! Ashley said we were just exploring. Lora said we're new here, and we just wanted advice for our first stay. The witch said well all you must know is this forest is enchanted. Now get out, I hate intruders so leave! But the sisters said there must be more to know, but the witch said leave or I'll cast a spell on you! Sarah said we have powers too! So the sisters and the witch fought with their powers, but the witch took out Sarah!! Ashley and Lora left quickly and the witch cackled. Lora's pet can heal so Ashley and Lora took Sarah to a tree stump, but Lora's magical bunny could not heal Sarah. The spell was too strong, but Lora knew what to do! She took the bunny's favorite snack and fed him. Then the bunny could heal Sarah so he did. Sarah woke up, and the sisters went back to their cabins.
